Last Meeting : Last week program was Ledyard Farmers Market
This week's Program : Next week's program is trash recycling by Bill Saums..

Last Week's Program: Visiting guest and Rotarians Linda Davis, Town Council chairperson. Harry Pearson, Mayor Fred and Jamie Allyn. Birthdays and anniversaries Bill Stone wanted a song. Special news and notes wine tasting fundraiser will be Friday November 9th at 6 p.m. tickets Advance $25 at the door $30 sponsored by the Gales Ferry Spirit Shop.

Linda Davis and Jamie Allyn described the marketing approach promoted for this year for the Ledyard Farmers Market this year the town commissioned a committee to manage the Farmers Market. They estimated that they needed 400 people to have a good market for the vendors.. The First Market netted 1,000 people. Jamie is the assistant market manager. Then describe how the market almost failed since many vendors did not want to return in previous years. The committee decided to fix the problem so they decided to create a kid area at the farmers market with face painting, crafts, balloon making, so people can come with their young children to the market and stay a few hours. Food is a big attraction including food trucks, with vendors such as Deke's Bagels Donuts local Yoko, Captain Scott's Lobster food truck. Cheesy Mac and Cheese and other popular vendors. The last thing that was important was Marketing in previous years and $8,000 Grant was spent to advertise entirely on the radio which did not work this year using social media and Facebook marketing for $15 per week was very successful. The Winter Market will start November 10th at the Ledyard Senior Center and will run through February. The ticket holder was Peter Green who did not win the jackpot this week consolation prize winner was Fred Allen
